The Story Of The Chupacabra

👁 17 ✓ 9 ★ 2

Chapter 1 by Cody Miller

Once upon a time there was a small beast.

Chapter 2 by Waldo:)

His name was Sid, and he was a freakish beast. He was not normal at all, he could not pronounce his words and looked funny all of the time. His eyes stretched from one ear to the other. And he wore glasses, the glasses looked even more freakish, stretching all the way around his head. He did not have many friends, and the only way he got his things was he had to steal them from Dunham's because he never had money. Eli was a chupacabra, and he had to do what chupacabras do best, eat goats.

Chapter 3 by Waldo:)

Eli the young chupacabra wandered into a farm off of the path made of rocks. He looked all over for goats, but never found any. His goat senses were kicking in, but he couldn't find any. He wondered "Where is the many goats?" "I feels their presence, but I doesn't." Eli finally wandered into a barn, and spotting what he thought was a goat. He had never really seen a goat, he just knew that it was one. This goat was spotted black and white, big, and for some reason would let around the goat's neck and pulled. The goat was too heavy. Even with all of his strength he could not get the goat to move. He put the rope in it's mount and hopped on "SAMAIYA!!" he shrieked as he whipped the goat. Just like that, off they went into the plains, the goat was not fond of Eli at first, but then realized that Eli might be a little slow with things so he had to be nice to him. That could be the beginning of a great friendship.

Chapter 4 by Waldo:)

Sid (Eli) fell off of the goat and it flew off a cliff, leaving Sid with no shirt. He cried in his sleep that night as he slept in a barn full of chickens that were clucking like winners. Every little cluck seemed like a laugh being directed at him, Sid was sad, and it made sense. His only friend ever that had accepted him for his ugliness was gone. Gone forever.

Chapter 5 by Juan Cena

I don't get it, Sid died? This is so bad Waldo why did he have to die, why didn't the chupapabra die instead?
